

STAS BARTNIKAS

Photography

CAPTURING THE POWER OF THE EARTH

Stas Bartnikas a brilliant aerial photographer. His internationally acclaimed portfolio speaks volumes about his capabilities.

Based in Moscow, he began his career as a correspondent after graduating with a Journalism degree from Moscow State University.

His works draw the audience to pristine nature and the earth's energies. He wants to share this energy through his photographs and let people to be closer to the source of our creation

His energy filled photographs have been published in prestigious magazines across Russia and Europe, such as Sunday Times Travel magazine, Maxim, GEO, Bild, View, Vanity Fair, L'Officiel Voyage. Additionally, he got featured in National Geographic's Photo of the Day and Daily Dozen rubrics many times. Eventually, it helped him become a contributor with @natgeoyourshot—also, the Avivson Gallery in London, and privately owned collections exhibit his notable works.

WWW.INSTAGRAM.COM/STASBART/

WWW.FACEBOOK.COM/STAS.BARTNIKAS

SB@STASBART.COM

WWW.STASBART.COM

AWARDS

More than 170 awards, including:

/ Natgeo Photo Travel Contest 2019, People's choice Award

/ PX3 Paris Photo Awards: 2017 - 2 Silver, 2019 - 1 Gold, 1 Bronze, 2019 - "State of the world" - Photographer of the year, Environmental category

/ Siena International Photo Awards: 2017, 2018, 2020: Honorable mentions and Remarkable Artworks

/ International Photo Awards: 2016: 1-2-3 places, One shot competition Climate change (3-d place)

/ Moscow International Photo Awards: 2017 - 1 Gold, 2 Silver, 2018 - 1 Gold, 1 Bronze, 2019 - 2 Silver

/ Chromatic Photo Awards: 2018 - 2nd and 3rd place, 2019 - 1st place,

/ Tokyo International photo Awards: 2017 - 1 Silver and Country pick, 2018 - 2 Gold, 3 Bronze, 2019 - 1 Bronze

/ Epson International PanoAwards: 2020 - Gold and Bronze awards, Top of 50 photographers

/ Frequently featured at Photo of the Day and Daily Dozen at natgeo.com

